ALL ABOUT THE CITY

Nothing New Except Two Mild Cases of Varioloid.

FOR PUBLIC VACCINATION

The Health Officer Will Inoculate All Applicants During Office Hours For Twenty-five Cents a Head.

Early yesterday morning Dr. Spelman and Chief Egan went out to Lost creek to investigate the case of small-pox reported to be located in a log cabin, about two miles from town. They found the man was suffering from a suspicious complaint and accordingly sent him in charge of two guards to the small-pox hospital. The patient was not very sick, as he walked in front of the guards the entire three miles to the quarantine station, where he was received by Dr. Stephens, who diagnosed his case as mild varioloid.

The man has been employed by Samuel Laundry as a roustabout at his saloon and is known by the name of Joe. As far as can be learned the man became ill last Saturday or Sunday, and was taken out to the country, if not by Mr. Laundry, at least with his knowledge and consent. The health officer and chief of police got wind of the case on Sunday and went to laundry's place of business, on the row and were informed that no case existed there, although five or six days previously there had been a man at the house who was suffering from a sore throat. Under these conditions the officers were much surprised yesterday when they went to Lost creek to find Laundry and another man at the sick man's cabin with his breakfast. It appears that Laundry took this action in order, as he thought, to prevent his buildings being quarantined.

Yesterday afternoon a man named Brown called on Dr. Spelman, complaining of feeling ill. The health officer did not stop to investigate the case, but immediately sent the man to the small-pox hospital, in charge of an officer. Dr. Stephens diagnosed the case as showing symptoms of small-pox. This patient also resided on the row and had, in all probability, been exposed to Laundry's man. Dr. Spelman has ordered the premises inhabited by these patients fumigated and the bedding destroyed.

Dr. Stephens reported that all his old patients were convalescing most favorably, and are out of any apparent danger. Dr. Spelman will open public vaccination headquarters in the Mattie block, where persons can be inoculated between the hours of 10:30 and 12 o'clock in the morning and from 1 to 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A charge of 25 cents will be made for each vaccination.

J. L. Hamilton, the county commissioner, telegraphed Dr. Owings, the county physician, to take charge of the Lost creek case, but Dr. Owings returned from the world's fair only yesterday, and failed to arrive in the city yesterday. Public confidence is pretty much restored, few citizens fearing any more trouble from the disease. The board of health and health officer have everything at hand and feel competent to deal with any cases at a moment's notice.

May Come Here.

Mgr. Satolli, accompanied by Archbishop Ireland and President Hill of the Great Northern railway, are expected in Helena to-day. Rev. Father Allanya said it was not definitely decided whether Mgr. Satolli would visit Anaconda, as such a trip was not included in the arrangement, but he probably might do so if invited. Every Catholic parish in the state will send a delegation to meet the distinguished dignitary at Helena, and a public reception will be given at 8 o'clock this evening. A large delegation from Anaconda, headed by the Rev. Father Allanya and including Messrs. Ehren, J. E. O'Brien, J. Smith, L. La Salle and others, will represent this city. It is generally hoped that Mgr. Satolli will be able to arrange his trip so as to visit the Copper City, for should he visit Helena only, he will gain a poor opinion of the state generally.

Died Suddenly.

Carl Petritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Petritz, died suddenly last night at 11 o'clock from dropsy. He had been ill for 10 weeks with a complication resulting from scarlet fever. Although he was seriously ill, death came suddenly and unexpectedly.

The little fellow would have been eight years old had he lived through the coming month. Arrangements for the funeral will be published later.

P. O. D. of A. Officers.

At the meeting of the P. O. D. of A. held last Monday evening the following officers were elected: Mrs. E. R. Capps, president; Mrs. T. J. Ward, vice president; Miss Fanny White, master ceremony; Miss Maggie Thomas, recording secretary; Miss Bertie Pickle, financial secretary; Miss Annie Tietjen, treasurer; Miss L. Burch, conductor; Miss Annie Stephens, guardian; and David Marler, guard.

Senator Hill's Game.

To the Editor of the Standard: I observe that the STANDARD alleges that the reason why Senator Hill does not come West is because he is afraid to run up against Montana's boss poker player. When it comes to a right stiff game of political draw or stud poker it will be found that the senator usually holds four one spots. Every time he draws he hits. Try yours. B. C. WHITE.
